MY AIM

I am interested in starting a career in web development as it is something that has interested me since it was briefly taught during my time at school and college, this year I spent my free time learning HTML and CSS and have a good understanding and knowledge of both.

I have learned the basics of Javascript and I am currently learning more however I feel the best way to do this would be to put myself in a challenging environment, where I can work on something that excites me whilst learning new skills and technologies.

INTERESTS

I have been interested in computers since I was young and built my first PC when I was 14, primarily used for playing videogames, which I still enjoy occasionally.

I also enjoy walking around the countryside near my home and stroking as many dogs as I can find, until my landlord allows pets in the building.

I can also make an excellent loaf of bread.
